DX Document Exchange

when important documents can't be late

The DX Document Exchange is a unique, pre 09h00 mail network dedicated exclusively to delivering business documents, parcels and pouches. Established over 30 years ago, we now deliver approximately 40,000 items every day, using a secure network of collection and delivery points known as 'Exchanges'.

The service is particularly suitable for companies with a branch network where it is used as an internal post system, as well as for businesses who communicate with the legal and financial communities, government or professional services companies.

Our customers include Solicitors in the Republic of Ireland, most major banks as well as government agencies and professional services companies.
